Bohannon Lecture Series, August 2022, Wednesdays, 10:30am, Fred Hesse Park, in RPV

August 3: Colonel Jim Brown USAF (Ret.)

Colonel Brown, an aerospace executive, test pilot instructor, and former USAF officer, will discuss his years as a stealth pilot for the Air Force and experimental test pilot for Lockheed's F-177 Stealth Fighter program.

August 10: Erik Jay, Photographer

Erik will present "Capturing the Spirit of 'The Great Peninsula.'" As a lifelong Palos Verdes local, he dedicated the past five years to creating a pictorial book about the Peninsula, after taking over 25,000 photos and narrowing that down to 200 pages telling the story of this famous California coastline.

August 17: Marlene Breene, Vice President and Director of the Palos Verdes Homes Association.

Marlene will discuss "Palos Verdes Estates, the Jewel of the Olmsted Legacy," to preserve the city's parklands, beautiful landscape architecture and public amenities for future generations.

August 24: Jim Shneer, Historian and Author, and former Aerospace Industry Engineer.

Jim will present "Exploring the Military History of Fort MacArthur and Palos Verdes." As an author of numerous books on military and naval histories, Jim discusses little-known facts of military history in the region.

August 31: Jay Kelly, "Railroads in the Civil War."

As a model railroader, Jay will discuss "The Role of Railroads in the Civil War," examining transportation capabilities of the North and South, and how their operations affected the conflict.
